

Solutions-Focused Agenda Planned For The Corporate Library's Conference, "The Future of Corporate Reform"

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Portland, Maine; July 9, 2009 – A substantive, exciting agenda is planned for an upcoming conference sponsored by The Corporate Library, the leading source for independent corporate governance information and risk analysis. "The Future of Corporate Reform: The Corporate Library's 2009 Public Funds Forum" is designed to give public fund managers and trustees the knowledge and tools to create long-term value, shape corporate reform and repair the markets. The conference will take place from September 8-10, 2009, at the Hotel del Coronado in San Diego, California.

Attendees will join institutional investors and leading academic and political thinkers, who will provide solutions through changes in investment strategy, litigation and public policy to restructure the public corporation and ensure it delivers on the promise of wealth creation for shareholders and society. The timely, informative agenda includes such topics as:

- How systemic failure led to the greatest global financial meltdown in 75 years, and why the risks were missed or ignored by corporate directors, officers and others paid to pay attention;
- How faith in public equity as an investable asset has been shaken and whether funds can rely on the public markets to deliver the equity returns necessary to meet liabilities;
- How boards of directors are changing their ways of doing business, including executive compensation practices, and how investor activism has stimulated reform;
- Reaction to how boards of directors are implementing reform;
- How the federal government is changing the rules for public companies and public markets, and how these reforms will impact public funds;
- Case studies detailing achieving financial recovery and governance reform through securities litigation;
- How emerging funds and investment strategies that look beyond conventional financial analysis toward long-term and sustainable approaches deliver superior returns; and
- How the new financial reality has affected the focus of public funds and what changes funds are implementing to endure these events.
